TRUSTED BY 43% OF CONTRACTORS

2026 Starnet Design Awards

Measure Square Preferred Vendor

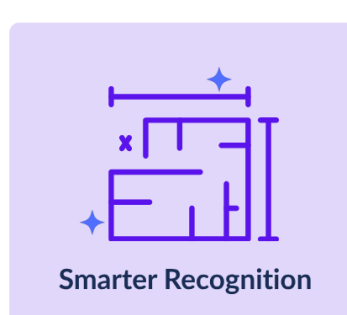

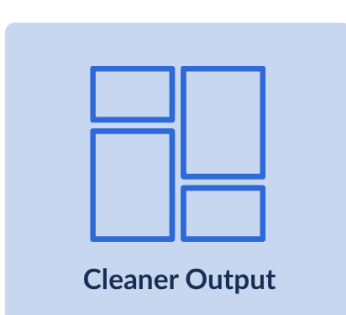

Measure Square Used In 43% of Projects in the Starnet Design Awards

The tides are shifting. 43% of contractors are choosing Measure Square as the trusted estimating software on high-profile design projects. On April 24th, the 2026 Starnet Design Awards recognized the best and brightest in commercial interiors. This year, Measure Square was featured as one of the preferred vendors on 43% of 91 project entries. Of the 39 projects that Measure Square contributed to, 5 won a top prize.

“For large-scale projects like the ones recognized in the Starnet Design Awards, accuracy and precision are key,” said Steven Wang, CEO of Measure Square. “The fact that so many of these projects relied on Measure Square speaks volumes about the trust contractors place in our solutions.”

Slab optimization has saved me the most amount of time overall. I used to count them pretty much by hand and had to lay out all 150 units. With this, I just click a button and it runs it for me.

Nick Annis, Commercial Estimator
Bay Area Granite & Marble

Customer Spotlight: From 7 hours to 1.5 with Nick Annis

When Nick Annis of Bay Area Granite & Marble stepped into commercial estimating, manual slab counting and fragmented workflows quickly became a bottleneck. With drawings packed with up to 150 units and dozens of layout variations, the process could take up to 7 hours. After testing MeasureSquare Stone & Tile for three days, two features immediately stood out. What happened next transformed the way his team handles commercial estimating projects.
